The Transfiguration

There he was transfigured before them. His clothes became dazzling white, whiter than anyone in the world could bleach them.
Mark 9:2-4

Seeing things differently, or more to the point, seeing things how they truly are can be a liberating event. There have been so many times in my own life where bad news or difficult circumstances have drained me of hope and caused me to see things negatively. But when I hear the clear, hopeful, truth of God I am oriented back to the source of life, hope and love. It is here my faith is renewed and it is here that I know that nothing can separate me from God's love and care.

When Jesus went to the mountain top and was transfigured, he had just told his disciples some bad news. Unlike their expectations, he told them that he would need to die and he would leave them to continue his work. Apart from the natural grief that they experienced at the thought of losing someone they love, the disciples were unsure of the future without their teacher and leader. It was at that point Jesus showed his truth. He displayed his glory and therefore their hope. Coming into contact with the truth of God and his glory allows us to see the greater reality. It allows us to know that our eternal wellbeing is in his hands and nothing can overcome the will of God.

May Jesus presence and glory be present in our lives.

Pastor Greg
