The word "transfigured" is a very interesting word.

We hear of Transformers, translations and transatlantic flights – but transfigured isn't a word we hear too frequently at all.

In Greek the word is "metamorpho", meaning to transform, literally or figuratively to metamorphose, or to change. The word is a verb that means to change into another form. It also means to change the outside to match the inside. The prefix "meta" means to change and the "morpho" means form. We see this in the change of the caterpillar into a butterfly.

Yet in Latin, the word "transfiguration" is a noun, "trans" meaning across and "figura" meaning form, or shape, thereby signifying a change of form or appearance.

In the case of the transfiguration of Jesus Christ it takes on both the noun and verb characteristics, by matching the visible outside with the reality of the inside. Jesus' divine nature was "veiled" in human form and the transfiguration was a glimpse of that glory. Therefore, the transfiguration of Jesus Christ displayed the settling of God's glory incarnate in the Son. Hearing the voice of God confirming the truth of Jesus' Sonship was the second time God's voice was heard, the first time being at Jesus' baptism.

The Son of God came to earth in the form of a man to be the true servant of God and to gift mankind with the greatest gift ever given, eternal life. The transfiguration of Jesus Christ was a visible sign in the presence of reliable witnesses of the reality of the power of God and the glory, which is Christ Jesus.

Children's Ministry in Worship

One of our core values at GGLC is ministry to children. Over the last year we have invested in this area with the appointment of a gifted children's ministry worker and a revamp of our programs. In worship, we have sought to ensure that children experience faith-enabling, engaging ministry. Our Kids at Heart program has developed into a fun, disciple-making activity and our feedback has shown that the children really enjoy it. In order to increase the ministry time at Kids at Heart, we have decided to cease the children's message in worship before the sermon. As we delight in sharing what our children are doing, the Kids at Heart children will present a summary of their lesson at the end of each worship service, right before the blessing.

Additionally, our Kids at Heart children will be leading our worship once a term. For This term it will be Palm Sunday. I, along with the worship team, would love your feedback as we implement this new arrangement.
