Before worship

My Dad often asked me, "Does the cart come before the horse?" I was brought up with the notion that you must work hard and long if you want to achieve anything. It's how the world works. It's pretty easy to carry this sort of thinking into our spiritual life. That is why I love the message of grace so much. It is so radical, so freeing, so uncomplicated.

People often think the perfect life is something achieved by being obedient to the law, and that the resultant perfection will mean God's acceptance of them. Here faith becomes the product of obedience - because they are 'good enough' for God, they can acknowledge Him.

The Bible says this order is wrong. Romans 4 declares that we are credited with righteousness - God's gift - not something earned and that this righteousness comes by faith. God credits righteousness to those who believe in Him who raised Jesus from the dead. Paul turns to the patriarch Abraham to show us how this works. "Abraham did not waver in unbelief regarding the promises of God but chose to believe that God had the power to do what He promised."

Look at the order God gave to Abraham. Genesis 17, God said, "Walk before me faithfully, and be blameless." Here we are shown which is the horse and which is the cart! The cart is the righteousness, the blamelessness, the gift which follows belief. There is no horsepower in obedience as a way of achieving perfection because we are human and can never achieve it by our own efforts. All the power lies in God and believing this becomes the horse that brings the cart. Walking faithfully by acknowledging God, His Son Jesus and His power over death leads us to righteousness that is eternal.

Lord God, King of grace and mercy, we acknowledge that You are the Lord who gave us a Saviour in Jesus and raised Him to life. Thank You that with our simple confession comes Your promise of righteousness and eternal life. All praise and glory to Your Name. Amen.
