The big picture

We live in an 'instant' world! So it seems for many, much of the time.

We want things now!

This does seem to apply especially to 'things'. That's one reason for the massive credit card debt that exists in the country. (There are over 16 million credit cards currently in use, with an average balance of $3,181.00). We are used to computers responding instantly to our requests and how quickly we can become frustrated when an aging computer takes an extra 3 seconds to reach its mark!

This 'instant' world can also be a 'small' one. It is 'small' in the fact that it can revolve so much around me. Life can be filled with my needs being met now. Sadly this approach is also prominent among leaders in our world. The media consistently reports on leaders modelling this 'all about me' philosophy of life.

In today's Bible reading from II Corinthians, Paul shows a different way "we look not at what can be seen but at what cannot be seen; for what can be seen is temporary, but what cannot be seen is eternal." His trust in God enabled him to see the big picture of life. The Christian faith frees us to be patiently present in love and care for others. Freed from self-centredness, we are free to be useful in the world.
