Making our own idols

Then the Lord said to Moses, "Go down, because your people, whom you brought up out of Egypt, have become corrupt. They have been quick to turn away from what I commanded them and have made themselves an idol cast in the shape of a calf. Exodus 32:7-8

'He idolises his teacher' my mum said to one of her friends when she was talking about my admiration for my 5th grade teacher. She was right. Mr Smith was an amazing man and our whole class adored him. He would not only keep us entertained as he taught but he seemed to have all the time in the world to talk with each student about their life. He was genuinely interested in us and we believed he was influential enough to make our lives better. Mr Smith was also fair and just, and looked after the weaker students with a compassion that came from the heart. However, we all got a shock when we moved up to grade 6. Mr Smith wasn't interested in us all that much. When we told him of our disappointment he said he has a new class this year and they are his priority.

Whenever we make someone, or something, an idol we will be disappointed. Idols take the place of God in our life; they are the objects of our affection, trust and well-being. They can be an important person in our life like a parent, teacher, friend or partner, or they can be things like a house or even a sporting activity. We all have the disposition of creating idols in our life. The nation of Israel did it when they made a golden calf. But idols will always lead us away from devotion and worship of God and we will end up worse for wear.

God knows our weakness to create idols in our life. He warns us of the danger and encourages us to return to him as the only true source of security and well-being. What idols are we harbouring in our hearts? Let's hand them over to Jesus and embrace our God, father, Son and Holy Spirit.
